THE ROCKY HOCK ANCHOR

The Mission of Rocky Hock Baptist Church is to magnify Christ and make disciples of all people.

"The Cornucopia Of God's Provision"

Why the Month of November Should Cause Us to Count Our Many Blessings

Psalm 100:1-5 – "Make a joyful noise unto the Lord, all ye lands. Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture. Enter into his gates with thanksgiving, and into his courts with praise: be thankful unto him, and bless his name. For the Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations."

November is my favorite month of the year because it starts and ends with something special. First of all, I was born on the 3rd day of this month — and so naturally, every November since then has been inaugurated by some kind of "birthday shin-dig" — brimming with all of the usual festivities (e.g., cake, candles, fun, etc.)

But that's not the only reason why I love November. It's also the time of year when we vote and hold elections — and I've always been fascinated by that. Ever since I was a little boy, I would watch debates, and monitor the election results as they came in. Truth be told, by the time I was 5 years old, I had memorized all of the Presidents and the States, and I'm just enthralled by civics and American History. So, as you might suspect, by the time November rolls around… I'm right in my element!

But perhaps most importantly, the month of November gives us an opportunity to slow down and share a big meal with those we love! As a child, there was no greater feeling than getting together with my family on Thanksgiving around a big dining room table (with both leaves inserted), full to the brim with some of my most favorite seasonal delights – shredded turkey, cranberry sauce, homemade dressing, green bean casserole, and of course – my preferred dish – giblet gravy.

It's traditions like this that remind us that November is a time when people should get together and count their blessings.

Having said that, I think that we as a church have a lot to be thankful for! A little girl named Delilah got saved last week. Several folks have been joining the church and we're seeing new faces in the congregation regularly. Just last week we hired a Children's Director – who is bringing hope and excitement for our children and their families. We just had a great revival – and truth be told, we've been in revival every single week at Rocky Hock for a while now! We have a lot to thank God for!

Church, we must recognize that good things like this don't "just happen." Blessings like this come to us from the hands of an ever-living, gracious, providential God – a God who knows how to give good gifts to His children (Matt. 7:11). As a matter of fact, everything we have flows from the cornucopia of God's bounty and provision. And, we shouldn't take it for granted! May we be quick to give thanks to the One who puts breath in our lungs and food in our mouths every single day.

As for me, I'm going to begin this month by thanking God for another year of life and for allowing me the great privilege of serving as your Pastor. I'm also going to thank God in advance for the leftover casseroles and cranberry sauce(s) that will soon be in my refrigerator. Thank you, Lord.

Planting Seeds of Faith: The Power of Our Influence

Dr. Cache' Hapner, Director of Family and Children Ministries

In 2 Timothy 1:5, Paul reminds Timothy of the sincere faith that first lived in his grandmother Lois and his mother Eunice, a faith that was faithfully passed down to him. What a beautiful reminder that our spiritual influence on children can leave a lasting impact for generations! Whether we are parents, grandparents, Sunday School teachers, ministry volunteers, or simply caring adults within the church, God has given each of us opportunities to plant seeds of faith in young hearts. Discipleship is not reserved for those with biological children; it is a calling we share as the body of Christ. Every Bible lesson taught, every encouraging word spoken, every prayer offered, and every moment spent making a child feel seen, loved, and valued can become part of their spiritual foundation.

We may not always see the fruit of our efforts, but that does not mean God isn't working. As 1 Corinthians 15:58 reminds us, our labor in the Lord is not in vain. We are not simply filling classrooms, planning activities, or keeping children entertained. We are investing in the next generation of disciples. May we approach every opportunity with love, patience, and intentionality, trusting God to grow the seeds we faithfully plant.

Red Cross Blood Drive – November 17th
Donate Blood in Memory of Chase Bateman

Chase was 19 when he sustained severe injuries from an ATV accident in October 2021. He received over 64 units of blood during his hospital stay beginning on his arrival to the ER. If blood wasn't available on his arrival he would have died in the ER. Those of you who are O- have "golden" blood. Your blood can be given to anyone who needs it emergently. Without blood on the shelf, and excellent healthcare, his family wouldn't have been blessed with those extra 23 days to love on him. It's now been 5 years. Let's give that next son or daughter a chance at life. DONATE FOR CHASE! Visit REDCROSSBLOOD.org and enter RHBC for your appointment OR download the Red Cross Blood Donor app. There will be multiple giveaways -- 4 raffles: 2 raffles for frozen turkeys from Billy & LouAnn Elliott, a raffle for a Christmas boxwood from Paradise Plant Farm, and a beautiful gift basket from Natalie Phelps. If you need help with an appointment or want to volunteer, call Rhonda Bass at 252-337-5766. The Blood Drive is from 1 – 6 PM.

MY ROCK

From: devotions4teens.com

Background Story: Jesus often taught the crowd important life principles using parables and images. In fact, this was prophesied about the Messiah in Psalm 78:2 around 900 years before.

Read: Matthew 7:24-27

24 "Everyone then who hears these words of mine and does them will be like a wise man who built his house on the rock. 25 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat on that house, but it did not fall, because it had been founded on the rock.
26 And everyone who hears these words of mine and does not do them will be like a foolish man who built his house on the sand. 27 And the rain fell, and the floods came, and the winds blew and beat against that house, and it fell, and great was the fall of it."

Big Idea: Security in life is found on the Rock.

We read in this passage, that whether a person hears Jesus' words and does them or chooses to ignore them, EVERYONE will experience storms in life. Those storms might come through relationships, jobs, health, finances, or personal loss. But they will come.

In this passage and throughout the Bible, God is described as the Rock. What does that mean and how does it help us in the storm?

God Is A Rock To Stand On: If you put your feet in the ocean waves, your feet will either move or remain steady depending on what you're standing on. If you're standing on sand, every wave will make your footing less secure. If you're standing on a rock, your feet remain still no matter how many waves hit. God is that Rock who brings stability and strength in the waves of life. Situations, people, finances, health, governments, possessions, seasons, beauty, success, and every aspect of life changes. But God does not. He is the constant Almighty God who never alters, changes, or wears out. Because of this, we can build our life on Him, trusting and relying on the One who is, "the same yesterday, today and forever" (Hebrews 13:8).

God Is A Rock To Hide In: If you walk along the shores of a rocky ocean, you will see places in the rock wall where birds, animals, and sometimes people take shelter during storms. Those places provide safety, a refuge, and a hiding place from the wind and waves outside. This is God. He is a refuge, a place of safety, and a hiding place where we can rest and have peace no matter what circumstance or storm rages around us.

So, take a glance at your feet… what are you standing and relying on? God is here…present, capable, and strong enough to sustain you and be your place of safety through any storm. Look to Him today.

Takeaway Verses: Psalm 18: 1 – 2

1 I love you, Lord;
you are my strength.
2 The Lord is my rock, my fortress, and my savior;
my God is my rock, in whom I find protection.
He is my shield, the power that saves me,
and my place of safety.

Finding Your "Who:" Awakening to the Mission Field Around You

There is something powerful that happens when God awakens our hearts to see people the way He sees them. In a world that often feels distracted and disconnected, God is calling His people into a radical awakening; not only to the nations across the globe, but also to the needs sitting right in front of us every single day.

We often hear people talk about finding their "why." Your why is your motivation. It's the reason you keep showing up, serving, loving, and saying yes to what God has called you to do even when it feels hard. For believers, our ultimate purpose is simple: to know God and make Him known. But as I've spent time encouraging women in ministry and missions, I've realized there's another important question we need to ask alongside our "why." In addition to why, we need to ask, "who?" Who are the people God has placed on your heart to serve?

In Acts 1:8, Jesus gives His disciples a powerful commissioning before ascending into heaven: "You will receive power when the Holy Spirit has come on you; and you will be my witnesses in Jerusalem, and in all Judea and Samaria, and to the ends of the earth." It was a call for every believer to live on mission.

Jesus starts with Jerusalem, similar to a home base. These are the people closest to us: our families, neighbors, churches, coworkers, classmates, and communities. They are people we interact with every day. Then He moves outward to Judea and Samaria, people who may live differently than we do, believe differently than we do, or exist outside our comfort zones. Finally, He points to the ends of the earth, reminding us that the Gospel is for every tribe, tongue, and nation. Sometimes we think missions only happens on the other side of the world, but the truth is there are mission fields all around us. There are people in our communities who feel unseen, forgotten, lonely, and hopeless. There are people sitting in our churches carrying burdens no one knows about. There are people searching for belonging, people trying to hold everything together, and people desperate for hope. Many people have access to a Bible but have never truly encountered the love of Jesus through His people. What if the way you love others becomes someone's first glimpse of Jesus? That changes the way we view ordinary moments.

You do not have to wait for a passport stamp or a giant platform to live missionally. God has already placed people in your path for you to serve. Henry Blackaby once said, "Find out where God is working and join Him there." I love that reminder because we simply pay attention to the places God is already moving and working, and join Him. Maybe your mission field is a hospital hallway, a classroom, a coffee shop, an office cubicle, or your own kitchen table. Maybe your "who" is the young mom who needs encouragement, the child who needs someone to notice them, the refugee family adjusting to a new place and culture, or the woman in your church quietly battling discouragement. God uniquely burdens each of our hearts for different people and different needs. That burden is not random. It is often an invitation. The beautiful thing about serving God is that obedience usually begins small.

Scripture reminds us in Colossians 3:23-24, "Whatever you do, work heartily, as for the Lord and not for men." God is not asking all of us to do the same thing, but He is asking all of us to be willing. Sometimes radical awakening begins in radical obedience to the small things. A conversation. A prayer. An invitation. A meal delivered. A child discipled. A neighbor loved well. The nations matter deeply to the heart of God, and we should continue praying, giving, sending, and going. But as we pray for awakening across the world, may we also ask God to awaken us to the opportunities directly in front of us. Who has God already placed within your reach? What needs are right in front of you that He may be inviting you to meet? You are influencing someone, whether you realize it or not. Your life, your words, your kindness, and your obedience can point people to Jesus. Do not underestimate the impact of faithfully loving the people God has entrusted to you. Small moments of obedience, surrendered to God, can lead to eternal impact.

Discipleship at home, Little hearts: Big gratitude

This month, help your child discover that thankfulness is more than saying "thank you"—it's recognizing God's goodness in our everyday lives.

Try This Together: Start a family gratitude jar! Throughout November, encourage everyone to write or draw something they're thankful to God for. Once a week, read a few together and thank God in prayer for His blessings.

Grow the Conversation: Ask your child, "How can we show God we're thankful, even when things don't go our way?"

Little moments of faith at home grow into lifelong roots in Christ.
