The Rocky Hock Anchor

The Mission of Rocky Hock Baptist Church is to magnify Christ and make disciples of all people.

Pastor's Corner

What does it look like to promote the worship of Jesus Christ in as many ways and in as many places as possible? Well, one way we can do this is by encouraging worship in others. In the church, we are not meant to live in isolation, but to live in community with one another. In other words, we help each other in our daily lives and our daily walks with Jesus.

The Bible calls us to confess our sins to each other, to encourage one another, to spur one another on towards good deeds and righteousness, to pray for one another, to pray with one another, and to bear each other's burdens. These are all ways that we can encourage worship.

However, something that we cannot neglect, is tending to the reality of worship in our own lives. One of the greatest things we can do to encourage each other in worship is to be worshippers ourselves. We each must drink deeply of the presence of Christ through His Word and be transformed by it. Believers are most encouraged by seeing other believers stirred in the worship of their God. If we want to encourage worship in others, we must stoke the fire of worship in ourselves.

Grace and Peace!

The deadline to sign up is Monday, August 12th. Coffee and snacks will be available.

"The Summer Camp Zone" – Part 2

"You are about to enter another dimension. A dimension not only of sight and sound, but of mind. A journey into a wondrous land of imagination. Next stop… [Summer Camp]!" - Rod Serling

Submitted for your approval – a "well-serviced" church van has been carefully cranked and packed knee-high with snacks and satchels. Little children pile in and buckle their seat-belts as they dream of a faraway land! For some, this is their first time being away from home… but you can see the excitement in their eyes; they're excited to be away from the "same old, same old" and spend a Summer week with their friends! As they arrive, bellies full of Chick-Fil-A, their eyes dance across the camp, which is littered with all kinds of play areas and other children running amok. They can tell this is going to be a week that brings them closer to God -- some, even to the point of salvation. It was also VERY hot!

The scenario you've just been given isn't from the Twilight Zone! It was reality! We have just returned from CentriKid at Eagle Eyrie Camp and Conference Center, in Lynchburg, VA, and I'm excited to report that it was a wonderful week indeed.

Since my last correspondence, we have been blessed to see our children involved with both Summer Camp and Vacation Bible School, in a matter of just 3 weeks! And, boy, has God been at work! Rocky Hock's Foundations Kids Ministry is alive and well, and we're excited to announce even more outreaches and events for the coming months, so stay tuned!

I would like to say "thank you" to all of our chaperones who worked and prayed arduously to help make this year's Summer Camps a hit! I would also like to express my gratitude to those who helped with VBS this year. To our teachers, volunteers, kitchen team, floaters, greeters, parking team, music leaders, craft aficionados, and our Director, Meredith. Everyone did a great job, and thanks to you, we were able to give those kids a great week, filled with Jesus! I'm proud of you all!

Psalm 78:6-7 - "That the generation to come might know them, even the children which should be born; who should arise and declare them to their children: That they might set their hope in God, and not forget the works of God, but keep his commandments …"

PENDING APPROVAL
Why Pleasing God Matters in the End

In Galatians 1, Paul began an impassioned letter to the churches in Galatia, pleading with them to preserve the purity and priority of the gospel. These churches were facing opposition from people who were "throwing [them] into confusion and . . . trying to pervert the gospel of Christ" (v. 7).

Paul urged them to stay true to the gospel and stay true to Christ, no matter what. His rhetorical question in Galatians 1:10 rings just as relevant in our ears today: "Am I now trying to win the approval of human beings, or of God? Or am I trying to please people? If I were still trying to please people, I would not be a servant of Christ."

WHEN RISK IS RIGHT

As the Galatians did, we face challenges today — from within and without — that cause us to struggle to stay faithful. And, at times, our motives may even be hard to discern.

Faithfulness feels risky sometimes. When we are obedient to God, we may be rejected by others or experience hardship, and some even face pain and death. But, when we trust Him with our lives and walk according to His ways, God promises to reward us with abundant life — His presence and provision, both here on earth and eternally.

Galatians 1:10 reminds us to focus on our call to serve Christ, and it centers our hearts back on Him. We aim to please God over human beings because He is our Lord, yes. But, more than that, we work for God's pleasure over other people's because He is so worthy of our time, attention, and affections.

We echo the spirit of Philippians 3:8, which says, "I consider everything a loss because of the surpassing worth of knowing Christ Jesus my Lord."

INVESTING IN ETERNAL DIVIDENDS

God has given us the privilege of participating in His work here on earth. This privilege comes as stewardship, which brings both great honor and great accountability. We know our lives here on earth are short, but their impact lasts long into eternity.

We hold right to the gospel and listen for God's voice above the din of others' voices because we want to be found faithful by Him. Just as the righteous servant in the parable of the talents enjoyed approval, we are serious about stewardship in the hopes of one day hearing God say, "Well done, good and faithful servant! . . . Come and share your master's happiness!" (Matthew 25:23)
